Tornadic Storm Slaps 5 Central Ohio Counties

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A tornadic storm dipped into five counties in central Ohio Tuesday, injuring four persons, two critically, and causing an untold amount of damage.

The black funnel was first reported just south of Newark in Licking County about 1 p.m. EST. In its 12-mile sweep through that county several houses and outbuildings were damaged, and trees uprooted. At one point witnesses said it scooped up a 1½-ton boiler from a garage and carried it a half-mile.

About 2:30 p.m., the high winds and torrential rain descended on Fayette County Soaked Again!

Rains Flood Roads, Add to Crop Damage

Old Sol was back again Wednesday—but apparently only for a few brief peeks through the clouds.

The rains hit this area hard Tuesday afternoon flooding city streets and county highways, hampering the Fair and adding to crop damage.

Precipitation for the month now totals 5.2 inches. There has been rain on 15 of the last 23 days.

The official weather report from Coy A. Stookey, government weather observer here, showed that .9 of an inch of rain hit the city during the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. Wednesday. Most of it came about noon Tuesday.

Main and Rawlings Sts. were flooded when the sewers could not handle the downpour, city officials said. Paint St. was clear by 5 p.m. and Rawlings St. by 7 p.m. Tuesday.

The rains soaked the entire county. An observer at Jeffersonville commented it was the worst rain in northern Fayette County in years. He said unofficial gauges recorded as much as 2½ inches there in 30 minutes around noon Tuesday. Basements in Jeffersonville were flooded and water was standing in the fields and ditches overflowing onto many roads. Creeks that sloshed over into the lowlands were receding by Wednesday morning.

THE WEATHER delivered its most severe blow against the farmers, who still have an estimated 90 per cent or both their wheat and oats still in the fields awaiting harvest.

Tons and tons of hay already have been lost because of the rain, and many acres of corn and soybeans are showing the effect of standing water.

The county's wheat crop worth around $1,250,000 had it been harvested on time, probably is the hardest hit by the continuous rains. Some farmers are now saying that, even if they can get combined, they don't expect it.

the Muskingum County village of Nashport, again shearing off roofs, up-ending outbuildings and knocking down trees and power lines. The roof of the C. H. Settles general store was blown off and dropped on a car containing four members of the John Carlisle family of Newark. However, none was injured.

The next stop on the storm's path northeastward was Dresden, where three persons were injured. Mrs. Mary Prince, about 35, and her daughter Gloria, 11, were injured when the garage they were in collapsed.

Clarence Fortune, 64, was cut and burned when the wind tore the roof from a shed where he was working at the Gaylord Container Corp. He was hit by debris and burned by chemicals.

Mrs. Prince was reported in critical condition at Zanesville Memorial Hospital and both her daughter and Fortune are in fair condition.

The storm then cut across corners of Coshocton and Guernsey counties to drop again just south of Newcomerstown in Tuscarawas County at about 4:30 p.m.

There, the wind hurled Kenneth Beaver, 30, from his bed to a nearby hillside. Beaver was reported paralyzed from his injuries and in critical condition at Coshocton Memorial Hospital.

Beaver's one-story, pre-fabricated house, which he built largely by himself, was destroyed. The wreckage was scattered over a half-mile area. Beaver was the only one in the house at the time.

Damage in that area about four miles south of Newcomerstown was estimated at about $100,000. At both Dresden and Nashport

Ike Aides Explain Reasons For Summit Talk Objections

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Next to an outbreak of war, the one thing the Eisenhower administration least wants just now is a summit conference either inside or outside the United Nations.

But an effort to preserve U.S.-British unity and avoid a repetition of the costly division of 1956 during the Suez crisis has forced the President to take a position where Premier Nikita Khrushchev seems to have the last word on whether or not there will be a summit meeting.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles both actually think, according to the word of some of their top aides, that this is no time for a top-level meeting on the Middle East, and that the U.N. Security Council in New York, with all its excitement, is no place for calm discussion of the crisis.

Administration officials said today there are several reasons why a summit meeting is highly undesirable now.

Khrushchev is in the position of an accuser and the United States of defender in the dispute peoples alike.

over the causes and the possible consequences of American and British military intervention in the Middle East. From the U.S. point of view, this is an upside-down situation, one that puts this country at a great disadvantage in trying to deal with the political and propaganda interests at stake in any highly publicized meeting.

2. There are, in the U.S. government's view, two real villains in the Middle East tragedy. They are Khrushchev and Egypt's Gamal Abdel Nasser. The State Department is convinced they intend to do everything possible right now and in the future to foment as much trouble as they can against pro-Western governments in the Middle East.

3. The risks involved in any summit conference are so great that no such meeting should ever be held without the most careful preparations that diplomacy can devise. These risks include dangers of misunderstanding, of an illusion of progress toward peace, of an exchange of debate which could inflame rather than calm the tempers of governments and peoples alike.

New Trade Bill Nears Approval

Ike Expected To OK Extension Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders predicted today that the reciprocal trade extension bill will emerge from conference with the House in a form satisfactory to President Eisenhower.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.), who will head the Senate conference, told a reporter, "I am sure we will work out a bill that will be fully acceptable to the President."

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex) said the conferees might come up with the full five-year extension asked by the President. If not, he said they surely will agree on four.

The Senate Tuesday night passed a three-year extension measure 72-16 after five days of debate.

The body rolled up a smashing 63-27 bipartisan vote to give Eisenhower a major victory in his fight to retain his power to override Tariff Commission recommendations for quotas and higher tariffs.

But the leaders on both sides who cooperated to achieve this did not call for any other floor tests on provisions put into the bill by the Senate Finance Committee over administration opposition.

They preferred instead to iron these out in conference. The House passed the measure 317-98 last month in a form which met all Eisenhower's specifications.

Under present law, the President can and sometimes does override a Tariff Commission recommendation for relief to an industry claiming damage from foreign imports.

But under the provision the Senate rejected, his decision against such a recommendation would not have prevailed unless a majority of both branches of Congress passed a resolution backing him.

The Senate action meant a return to present law. But the House put in its bill a provision allowing Congress to reverse the President in such a case by a two-thirds vote of each branch, and this may be restored in conference. It is acceptable to Eisenhower.

Although the wheat is still standing well, several farmers have said that it is beginning to sprout in the heads. Some oats are going down, which will make combining difficult.

The wheat harvest would have been completed two weeks ago under normal weather conditions, and the oats harvest would have been well along by now. Farmers say instead, both crops are still standing in the fields, virtually untouched. Most farmers agree that, even if the rains stop now, combines could not be even pulled through the fields before the week-end.

CHARLES P. WAGNER, county engineer, said: "There was a tremendous lot of water. Red Bud Rd. in Green Township was closed for a short time Tuesday night when Lees Creek overflowed across it. Ditches could not carry off the water and several other roads were under water in spots. All were passable Wednesday morning."

The State Patrol said several highways in Southeastern Ohio were under water, but the major roads in Fayette County were open. Main routes in Mt. Sterling were blocked by water for a time Tuesday afternoon.

Paul Dougherty, commercial manager of Ohio Bell, said they were able to keep regular service with only a normal amount of damage from the heavy rain. Dayton Power and Light Co. had no reports of trouble.

A survey of Fayette County towns showed that Good Hope had about an inch of rain. New Holland was hit hard with an inch and Bloomingburg residents reported Paint Creek running high.

Even though the rain hit hard a year ago 1.32 inches fell on July 22.

Most of the rain predicted today and tomorrow probably will fall in the Southeastern Ohio. It will be generally fair in the northwestern section of the state, the weatherman says.

Pravda Spins Tale Of American Plot

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda suggested today that American commanders in Lebanon plan to hire a gang of cut-throats, arm them with rifles captured from Egypt during the Suez invasion and have them attack some of the 10,000 U.S. Marines and paratroopers at Beirut.

"This would give the required provocation for U.S. aggression against the United Arab Republic," said the Soviet Communist party's organ.

"The aim becomes clear of the U.S. ambassador in Cairo when he threatened the Nasser government that any attack would be met by aggression," Pravda said.

There were 38 entries for the regular Thursday program — 10 in the 2-year-old OCRA trot stakes, with a purse of $1,570; 10 in the 3-year-old pacing stake, with a purse of $1,510, and 18 in the 30-class overnight trot.

Admiral Expects Quiet Lebanon Withdrawal

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Admiral James L. Holloway said today I really think we can get out of Lebanon without any fighting. He added he doubts that World War III will start here.

The commander of all American forces in Lebanon recorded these statements for radio and television. He appeared along with U.S. Ambassador Robert McClinton.

Both expressed optimism over the outlook, not only in Lebanon but in respect to repercussions elsewhere to the arrival of American forces in this tiny Middle East nation.

Holloway and McClinton were asked their opinion on the possibility that the Lebanese situation might touch off a third World War.

The ambassador replied: "From my own political experience, I would say the danger of a third World War is very much reduced." Holloway concurred.

Holloway also said he sees no indications of the Russians becoming involved in the Lebanese problem. Asked whether he felt similarly about the United Arab Republic, he replied that "it would not appear that President Nasser will mount and launch a formal intervention in Lebanon" on newsman.

Reporters asked both men about the possibility that American forces might be used to assist Jordan's King Hussein. Holloway did not reply directly but said: "The U.S. Marines and Army have the capacity for quick shifts and movements."

In a formal statement, McClinton said: "We are here to help, and not to take over."

Meanwhile, Speaker Abdel Osseiran postponed Parliament's election of a new president for one week. This apparently was to gain time in the search for a candidate acceptable to both the government and rebels.

Osseiran told the Associated Press he is calling a session of Parliament July 31 to elect a president.

The first ballot a two-thirds majority is needed to elect a president but on subsequent ballots only a simple majority is needed.

If agreement is reached between the rebels and loyalists on a president, Lebanon's 75-day-old crisis may soon end. If agreement is not reached the cleavage between the two groups is likely to re-open into civil war.

There will be contests for five of the six seats on the Fayette County Agricultural Society's board of directors to be filled by ballot Friday on the Fairground.

Opposing the four board members whose three-year terms expire this year are Russell Beatty, Frank C. Dill, G. B. Vance and Alvin Writsel. The incumbents, all of whom are candidates for reelection, are Sam B. Marting, Preston Dray, Frank E. Ellis and Walter C. Driesbach.

Dudley O. Moon is opposing Ronald C. Cornwell whose term ends Dec. 3, 1960.

Charles Andrews, seeking re-election to the term ending Dec. 3, 1959, is unopposed.

BEATTY, a resident of Jefferson Township, is a farmer and stockyards official; Dill, who lives in Union Township, is a dairy cattle leader, a member of the board of the Fayette County Dairy Assn., and county representative on the board of the Ohio Dairy Assn.; Vance, 423 E. Incumbent officers of the board have denied these claims.

"Big Time" Crime Investigation Up Again

The law-abiding citizens of every community across our land ought to be concerned over the increasing importance of "big time" organized crime and the investigations in progress. Where are these well-engineered rackets leading and who are the men behind them?

The special U. S. Senate committee which is now entering upon a long, hot summer of work on racket investigation is hoping to uncover some material which will show a need for a public awakening on some things that are happening.

A lot of the underworld figures, who are expected to be called into the investigation are reported to have convened some time ago in the Apalachin, N. Y., home of one of crime's "big shots" for the purpose of dividing fields of operations among the better organized criminal element.

Many of these men probably will be well-dressed thugs, active in various enterprises, who will smugly "clam up" and take advantage of the old Fifth Amendment dodge.

That there does exist some type of international criminal syndicate, which is called by several different names and is operating in a big way in this country, is a fact pretty well established by conscientious police and judicial officials. It apparently has enormous wealth at its command and seemingly has power to corrupt policemen, judges, politicians and seemingly whole cities in some instances.

There have been some disturbing rumors to the effect that the notorious Charles ("Lucky") Luciano, vice and narcotics gangster deported to Italy some years ago has a strong hand in directing operations of the organization directing "big take" criminal activities in this country today.

It is expected that the Senate Rackets Committee will find it difficult to obtain much revealing information out of the case-hardened gangsters already summoned to testify, but some senators believe that much may be gained indirectly.

There is a certain amount of implied criticism toward an apparent lax official attitude, from federal government down the line, against big-time crime. There are many people however, who have strong hope that the investigation will lead to better and tougher laws for handling this powerful domestic evil.

TOKYO (AP) — Walk into any big Japanese department store and you'll hear the same refrain in Japanese, of course—with almost monotonous repetition:

"Thank you for so frequently honoring our store with your presence."

The translation may be somewhat literal, but it is symptomatic of a politeness campaign that makes the Western rule of the customer always being right elementary by comparison.

At one of Japan's best-known stores — Mitsukoshi — customer service extends beyond working hours.

The management has informed its staff: "If, while riding public transportation, you see a person carrying a wrapped package bearing the marking of the store, give that person your seat, or offer to carry the package that person is carrying."

And if an employee is clumsy enough to have his or her foot stepped on by an unheeding customer, it is the employee who must apologize for being so careless.

Other rules provide that:

An employee must never walk between a customer and the goods that customer may be looking at.

An employee must never overtake a customer walking through the store. The employee must take another route.

Stores take the politeness drive in earnest for they know it affects sales. One personnel manager reportedly told a group of recruits:

"We'll have to first make ladies and gentlemen out of you before you are of any use."

NATO is essentially a political and military alliance designed to challenge Soviet imperialism and to provide defenses against it.

Associated with NATO was the Balkan Alliance, the Baghdad Pact and SEATO.

This established a military and political line west and south of Soviet Russia upon which the United States hopes to depend for peace and war.

But these are voluntary organizations among free nations and therefore no coercive means can be used to enforce any of their decisions.

What's Your Value?
In Dollars, Cents?

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

HOW MUCH are you men worth? was scratched for the first time?

Your bank account won't provide the answer. Nor will your car, your home or your yearly income.

Even your wife and family probably underestimate your true value. I'll bet that if I asked your wife right this minute how much you were worth, she would reply with a smile: "Why, he's worth $1,000,000!"

Would Underestimate

And do you know that she would actually be underestimating your value by a substantial sum!

A few years ago some authorities on the subject figured that it would cost about $1,500,000 to construct an electronic calculator capable of making the multiple decisions that an ordinary man is expected to make in an ordinary day on the job.

As I said, that was a few years back—about four, as I remember. And you know how inflation has boosted prices in the last four years. So even that rather startling figure of $1,500,000 may be a little low now. What has this got to do with your health?

Takes Good Care

Well, anyone possessing a piece of machinery worth more than $1,500,000 generally wants to take pretty good care of it.

Remember the last time you bought a new car? Remember how you washed and polished it every chance you had and how annoyed you were when it got dirty?

peace. It also upsets all existing arrangements among the neutrals.

But the Iraqi revolt also poses problems for Soviet Russia. In the first place, Soviet Russia's position as an imperialist country in the whole of Asia is absolutely exposed. Nasser may pose as an independent merchant, buying and selling where he can, but once the Marines set foot on Lebanese soil, Nasser's effort to establish a land bridge between Egypt and Syria was thwarted.

If the Turks come to our aid in Lebanon, what may develop is a Turkish - Israel alliance for mutual defense which would limit Nasser's imperialist designs.

These are two fighting nations that Nasser cannot influence by propaganda because they are against him per se. Such an alliance could force Nasser to risk another war as that which occurred in the Sinai Peninsula two years ago.

In a word, this revolution in Iraq upsets the structure of alliances and affiliations which have been carefully constructed since World War II and upon which the United States hoped to build a

Live Drama, Sponsored Shows

Getting Scarce on Television

NEW YORK (AP) — Unless something exceptional occurs during the next month or so, the two rarest sights on television will be the live dramatic show and the sponsored show.

The problem, continues the agency man, is that today programming generally has reached a point in quality where there are a lot of shows around, and all of them good.

"The whole thing has led to a leveling off. Clients are just not going to find any one outstanding show because almost all shows have reached a reasonably good level."

And of course, there is—or was—the recession.

"In the past, the way to build the medium was to cater to the advertising giants," he says. "And the advertising giants run like rabbits at the first sign of trouble. Television should have made more provisions for the small advertisers. The agencies right now are looking for ways to have more than two sponsors for a half hour show."

Unemployed Laborer Accused in Stabbing

What will this mean to you and to me? Probably fewer expensive talents shows, more movies, more inexpensive panel and audience participation shows—and more plugs for coming attractions instead of the regular commercials.

Sugar Grove Church Circle Meets Monday

Mrs. Emerson Carter was hostess to 11 members of the Willing Workers Circle of Sugar Grove Methodist Church Monday night.

Mrs. Harold Hugus opened the meeting with prayer. She also led the devotions. Her topic was "Sin and the Power of God." Hymns were sung by the group, after which the devotions were closed with a poem by Mrs. Hugus.

Mrs. Norman Merritt, circle president, conducted the business session. The secretary's and treasurer's reports were given by Mrs. Paul Brunner and Mrs. Richard Miller. Each member gave one cent for each pound in weight, adding a tidy sum to the treasury.

"Superstitions on Marriage Dates" was read by Mrs. Ronald Stevens.

Mrs. Merritt and Mrs. W. Lloyd Browder thanked the circle members for their cards, prayers and gifts during their recent illness.

Mrs. Hugus, who corresponds with a Korean family, read several letters and distributed snapshots she has received from them. The circle has recently made a donation for a sewing machine to be sent to this family.

A report on the ways and means committee and the church store-room was given by Mrs. Elden Armbrust.

The business session was closed with prayer by Mrs. Browder.

A Bible study highlighted the program. Mrs. Stephens conducted a contest on "Women of the Bible". A dessert course was served by Mrs. Carter.

Mrs. Corda Cummings, Mrs. George Blazer and Mrs. Bill Nelson were guests.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Frank Berry and will feature a guest speaker.

Midway Memos

The Fayette County Fair opened on schedule yesterday!

This statement alone is a tribute to the men and women who sloshed through mud and mire Tuesday, hauling stone, digging drainage ditches, moving animals, and doing the hundred-and-one other jobs that had to be done to salvage this year's Fair from the water that stood and flowed everywhere on the Ag Society grounds.

SOME of the concessionaires fell into the category of "displaced persons" yesterday, when in the swirling, knee-deep water prevented several of the show folk from reaching their trailers and houses. We particularly noticed one forlorn-looking green bus sitting in the middle of a rushing stream, with water up to its running board.

We learned later that many people in similar situations on the grounds were "doubling up" with other families in one trailer, or lodging in the barns. The vehicles' owners (some of them, anyway) have managed to retain a sense of humor about the whole thing - on one of the marooned trucks was a large cardboard sign which bore the inscription "The S. S. Showboat."

A SLIGHTLY REVISED version of the mailman's code might well apply to some of this year's fairgoers. Two teen-age girls were spotted leaving the exhibits last night with their shoes in their hands and mud covering their feet and legs quite completely. "Neither rain, nor mud, nor dark of night shall stay us from coming to the Fair...!"

MANY MEMBERS of the Fair's official family bussed themselves Tuesday hauling ton after ton of stone to both the midway and stock areas, where it provided a relief from the sticky mire that had bogged down work efforts most of the day.

THE FINAL PROOF that Fayette County really supports its Fair, came last night when people parked their cars blocks away, due to the flooded conditions in the parking area, and walked back to tramp through the mud and the exhibits. It was considered by Fair officials to be a "very good crowd" considering the fact that there was no grandstand show, and the grounds were bad.

despite the heavy precipitation most of the stock barns are fairly dry. Wish we could say the same for the exhibitors - they've probably been exposed to more of the foul weather than have their livestock. Some exhibitors already have encountered a problem that confronts almost every fair - lack of pens and some mix-ups in number assignments. The staff of the secretary's office is doing a yeoman job to straighten out these problems and provide all the service needed by the hundred of officials, exhibitors, and just plain FAIR-goers.

Jets Manager Praises Junior League Program

"Washington C. H. and Fayette County should be proud of the fine job they are doing with the Little League and Babe Ruth League programs for young athletes," Harold M. Cooper, general manager of the Columbus Jets baseball club, told Rotarians and their guests Tuesday noon.

"This is a tremendous youth program here, and we're trying to do the same thing in Columbus," Cooper said at the Rotary luncheon meeting at the Country Club.

In his audience were more than a score of junior baseball managers, league officials and players, including Lions Club members who are cooperating with Rotarians in plans for "Washington C. H. Night" at the Jet stadium Aug. 13.

Little League and Babe Ruth League members will visit the Columbus ball park that night with adult escorts. A part of the proceeds from the scheduled game will be allocated to the local program.

COOPER, who identifies himself as "the manager who almost signed Mickey Mantle," was introduced by George Finley, Little League president and active in Rotary youth work. Accompanying Cooper here was Charles Wareham, business manager of the Jets.

The Mickey Mantle incident occurred while Cooper was manager of the Hutchinson, Kas., team. Mantle's dad was about to give his consent to a deal with Hutchinson when a Yankee scout grabbed one of baseball's top prizes.

The speaker, who related one anecdote after another about the players he has known, rates Enos Slaughter, Harry Walker and Harry Brecheen as the best players with whom he has associated.

Organized baseball is badly in need of fresh talent, Cooper said, adding that the sport requires all the requisites of a good athlete—not just the specialized talents which make acceptable team members in other fields.

And there is another prime requisite—the proper mental outlook.

COOPER, who wryly observed that after lean years in the near-cellar the Jets have fashioned a first division club plagued by rain, said that the financial structure of the Jets may point a way to salvation for many minor leagues clubs.

Backed by businessmen moved by public spirit rather than a profit motive, the Jets were launched with a half-million dollar mortgage on their stadium. Approximately $300,000 has been paid off with another two years, Cooper believe, the debt will be wiped out.

From then on, as much as $100,000 annually may be available to help finance youth activities in Central Ohio.

FRED SEE, retired Chicago industrialist who is remodeling the Penn homestead on Route 22 as a Fayette County residence, was welcomed into the club. He was presented by Ralph Penn who told how See fell in love with the area and decided to make Fayette County his home.

President Joe Campbell named Andre Metals as youth chairman to replace John Elcessor who asked to be relieved because of a change in jobs, and announced the resignation of James Parkinson from the club. Parkinson will relocate in Columbus after his retirement as city manager on Oct. 1.

It was also announced that the local club's plans to participate in the foreign student exchange program have been canceled because of inability to complete details this year.

Birthday greetings were sung for Dewey Sheider.

Rotarian guests were J. A. Duncan and the Rev. Roy Vandegrift, Greenfield and F. E. (Bus) Hill, Xenia.

Ohio Traffic Toll Running Low So Far

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Traffic accidents in Ohio during the first six months of this year claimed 116 fewer lives than in the same period last year. It is the lowest six-month death toll since 1951.

Ohio traffic accidents killed 815 persons from January to June this year against 931 in the first six months of 1957. Highway Safety Director Gordon Jeffery said in a report Tuesday.

A drop of 51 per cent in rural deaths for June alone helped reduce this year's figure, he said.

At least 200 lives can be saved over the entire year, the highway safety chief said, "If we keep alive the safe driving trend we have maintained so far this year."

Jeffery attributed the continuing fall in traffic deaths to a police crackdown on irresponsible drivers and to the "efforts of Ohio citizens with an alert conscience for safe driving."

The department reports show six of Ohio's eight metropolitan counties reported fewer deaths this year than last. Deaths dropped from 84 to 72 in Cuyahoga County, from 48 to 45 in Franklin County, from 55 to 45 in Hamilton County, from 29 to 27 in Lucas County, from 24 to 16 in Mahoning County, and from 37 to 21 in Montgomery County.

In Stark County, however, the toll rose from 29 to 32 and in Summit County from 40 to 50.

'Wheat Rebel' Plants Below His Allotment

Scott Whiteleather, president of the Independent Farmers of Ohio who has been feuding with agricultural officials over wheat planting, says he has been told his current acreage is legal. He said the Columbiana County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee determined his current wheat plant at 25½ acres—14½ acres below his allotment.

Ore Shipments Far Below '57

CLEVELAND (AP) Iron ore shipments on the Great Lakes in the first half of this year were down 59 per cent from the first six months of 1957.

A sharp drop in coal shipments also was reported today by the Lake Carriers' Assn. However, there was improvement in grain shipments.

Coal shipments dropped to 13,315,392 net tons from 21,900,222 tons in 1957, and iron ore cargoes fell to 12,163,964 gross tons from 30,314,649 tons.

Grain shipments on the Great Lakes to July 1 totaled 4,959,140 net tons, 1,030,806 tons more than the cargo carried in the corresponding 1957 period. Export demand was credited for the healthier movement.

Your Public School Doing Poor Job? Start Your Own

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Many parents talk about getting a better education for their children. Robert Ryan and his wife Jessica did something about it.

They went to the extreme of starting their own school. The project has been a rousing success, attracting interest from educators in many parts of the country.

It all started about eight years ago when the youngest of their three children was ready to begin kindergarten. Mrs. Ryan scouted the public school situation in their North Hollywood neighborhood.

She reported to her husband that the situation wasn't good. The schools were packed with the wartime baby crop, and classes were on half-day sessions.

"What'll we do about it?" the actor asked.

"Let's start our own school," his wife said.

"Oakwood School has blossomed since then," Ryan said. "We now have 80 students, seven modern classrooms and a new playing field."

"It is not a celebrity school—I'm about the only actor connect-

At Least, AL Race Has Signs of Life

Tuesday Night Lists Series of Goofs To Brighten Dull Campaign

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
That American League "race" may be dull, but you can't say they're not trying to liven things up as the New York Yankees romp along with a 12-game lead.

Take Tuesday night.

1. Cleveland's Vic Power missed most of the first game in a two-night double-header with Washington. He thought only a single game was scheduled. Washington took the opener 4-2 in 12 innings but the Indians, with Power lining a two-run double, won the nightcap 5-3.

2. The Yankees clipped Detroit 13-3 as Bob Turley won his 15th, but the Yankees made it a bit out of the ordinary by getting 23 hits, high for the season in AL.

3. Baltimore and the Chicago White Sox, running 1-2 in team fielding, booted the ball around for five unearned runs in a 4-2 Chicago victory.

4. Kansas City got only four hits, but beat Boston 4-3 on Hector Lopez' two-run, two-out homer in the ninth.

Only one game was played in the National League. Milwaukee defeated St. Louis 2-1.

Turley, who has lost but three, had a four-hitter and a 13-1 lead going into the ninth. Then the Tigers counted two on Guy Zernial's fifth homer and doubles by Frank Bolling and Tito Francona.

The White Sox jumped past the Tigers into fourth place as Billy Pierce, 10 games behind last year's 20-victory pace, won his 10th. He had a shutout for 8 2-3 innings, then needed Turk Lown's relief help when he walked two runs home after an error by shortstop Luis Aparicio. Jack Harshman (7-8) lost it, supplying the error that led to a three-run fourth.

Bob Cerv had an RBI single as the A's scored two in the first. But Tom Brewer (4-9) then blanked 'em on two hits until he gave up a two-out walk and Lopez' ninth homer. Tom Gorman (3-4) won it in relief of Murry Dickson, who gave up the Red Sox' runs on homers by Pete Runnels and Jackie Jensen.

Home runs by Norm Zauchin and Ken Aspromonte won the opener for the Senators and Dick Hyde (8-2). Cal McLish (8-6) went all the way for the Tribe. Indian manager Joe Gordon rushed Washington starter Camilo Pascual after he had split Gary Geiger's helmet with a pitch but was restrained before reaching the mound. Geiger wasn't injured seriously.

Hal Woodeshick and Earl Averill, who beat the Nats in Washington last week, did it again in the nightcap. Woodeshick gave up nine hits but gained a 2-0 record when Averill broke a 2-2 tie with a two-run single in the third.

Runners on Foot Gaining on Horses

HEBER, Utah (AP) — The lead horses topped 8,000 foot Daniel's Summit just after last midnight, but the men on foot appeared to be gaining in a grueling 157-mile endurance test between man and beast.

The men are pitted against the mounted horses in a race from Salt Lake City via major highways to Roosevelt, in eastern Utah. The Summit, highest point on the route, is 70 miles from the starting line, from which the racers set out shortly before 10 a.m. (est) Tuesday. It's 19 miles east of Heber — all but 4 miles of it steady uphill grade.

"This'll be my last run. At 62, I think I'm just a bit too old."

Woodeshick Stars Again For Indians

CLEVELAND (AP) — Hal Woodeshick, a 25-year-old left-hander, seems bent on making the Cleveland Indians forget for awhile another southpaw of the same age — Herbert Judge Score.

Score, the Tribe's fireballer of whom a great future is predicted, currently is sitting out a 30-day stay on the club's disabled list with an ailing arm.

Woodeshick was called up from the Indians' San Diego club in the Pacific Coast League a week ago and stopped Baltimore in his first start, 5-1, with a seven-hitter. He had compiled a 10-2 mark with San Diego.

He went the route again Tuesday night with a 5-3 victory as Cleveland managed a split of a two-night double header with the Washington Senators. It broke a three-game losing spell after the Senators had won the opener 4-2 with a pair of 12th inning home runs by Norm Zauchin and Ken Aspromonte.

The back-to-back homers sent right-hander Cal McLish down to his sixth loss against eight victories. He had won five in a row and pitched 12 innings Tuesday night.

Woodeshick came to the Indians in a pre-season trade with the Detroit Tigers along with catcher J. W. Porter. The Tigers got veteran backstop Jim Hegar and southpaw hurler Hank Aguirre in that deal.

Timely hits by Vic Power and Earl Averill permitted Woodeshick to win in a tight duel with Washington rookie John Romonosky, who struck out 10 and allowed only six hits.

Brown-Lane Bout Slated for Tonight

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Tough-talking Joe Brown meets the last of the persistent challengers for his world's lightweight championship tonight with the prediction that he'll dispose of this one — Kenny Lane of Michigan — about like he has all the others.

Brown will be defending his title for the fifth time in 23 months. He disposed of the previous four challengers — Wallace Lopes and Ralph Dupas — by Smith, Orlando Zuleta, Joey Lopes and Ralph Dupas — by knockouts.

It will be Brown's second big pay day in less than three months. The little Negro from Baton Rouge, La., pulled down $40,000 for whipping Dupas here May 7. He should get about the same out of tonight's fight.

Carson and Campredo outclassed the others in the field of 146 boys 17 and under — and a golf player from the age of 7.

Carson, a 16-year-old with a crewcut, got a par four on the 36th and last hole of medal play at Sunningdale Country Club Tuesday night to score 68-71-139. Leo Campredo of Warren took a bogie 3 on the 36th hole for a 69-71-140.

Three youngsters who were tied at 149 play off today for fourth place.

Carson and Campredo outclassed the others in the field of 146 boys 17 and under — and a golf player from the age of 7.

Playing off for the fourth place and the right to compete in the national tournament at Tucson, Ariz. next month are Grant Klopperman of Cleveland, 77-72; Jim Reese of Kent, 75-74; and Skip Willie of Granville, 75-74.

Grammas Says He's in Need Of Bat Time

CINCINNATI (AP) — Alex Grammas, the nimble Cincinnati Redleg jack-of-all-trades, thinks he should get more batting practice instead of less.

He figures it would make him a more productive hitter.

The Reds right now need all the productive hitting they can buy, borrow or steal.

The Redlegs-Chicago Cub game Tuesday night was rained out but chances are Alex would have found some work to do. For one thing, Manager Birdie Tebbets has penchant for platooning players.

For another thing, Alex is dangerous in the clutch.

But he would like to be better.

Alex said: "Sitting around on the bench and breaking into the lineup for only an occasional time-at-bat hurts one's average."

"Then, the second stringer doesn't get enough batting practice. In road games, he gets only one chance to hit in the pregame workout, while regulars get three or four."

Tebbets said Alex' talents in the field are his strong point. He fits in anywhere and right now he is spelling third sacker Don Hooper, who banged up a shoulder last week at Chicago.

Alex said his talents in the field are hard won. "When a man plays one position, he gets so he can throw automatically, almost blindfolded, to first," he said.

"At second, it is a snap throw. Shortstop has the longest distance to make up and his heave is practically overhand."

In tonight's game with the Cubs here, Joe Nuxhall matches his pitching talents against Dave Hillman.

Sawyer Again Named Pilot For Phillies

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ten years ago, less one day, Eddie Sawyer was hired to manage the Philadelphia Phillies. Tonight he takes over again as the Phils' field boss in one of those quirks explained thus by his predecessor: "That's baseball."

General Manager Roy Hamey announced Tuesday that Mayo Smith, the man he personally brought up from the minors in 1955 to manage the Phils, was through and Eddie Sawyer, who led the Phils to the National League pennant in 1950, was rehired.

The back-to-back homers sent right-hander Cal McLish down to his sixth loss against eight victories. He had won five in a row and pitched 12 innings Tuesday night.

Woodeshick came to the Indians in a pre-season trade with the Detroit Tigers along with catcher J. W. Porter. The Tigers got veteran backstop Jim Hegar and southpaw hurler Hank Aguirre in that deal.

Timely hits by Vic Power and Earl Averill permitted Woodeshick to win in a tight duel with Washington rookie John Romonosky, who struck out 10 and allowed only six hits.

Flashers-Realtors Game Is Postponed

There will be no champion ship game in the Little Major League Wednesday night. It has been postponed again, the third time.

The Flashers and the Realtors, who tied for the first round title last week, have been trying since Monday night to decide the winner.

The game is now scheduled for Thursday night — if there is no more rain. If it is not played then, it will be slated for Friday night.

Max Lawrence, commissioner, said the second round of play in the Little Major League will get underway Monday night at Wilson Field.

Rasslers Return Saturday For Final Night Fair Show

4 Men, 2 Gals To Appear on 4-Bout Card

The "rasslers" are coming back to Washington C. H. Saturday for the first time in just a year. They will put on a two-hour four-bout show at the Fairground, starting at 8:15 p. m., as the final attraction of the Night Fair.

Three of the matches will be by men grapplers and one will be by a couple of comedies, but rough and tough, gals.

The show — provided the rains let up — will be put on in a ring erected in the race track in front of the grandstand. Ringside seats will be chairs placed in the track. General admission seats will be in the grandstand.

The first match for a fall or referee's decision, with a 20-minute time limit, will bring together Ali Pasha, the "Terrible Turk," a boxer, a veteran of 30 years of ring battles, will meet a former Chillicothe boy, Leon Graham, who now lives in the little village of Lyndon south of here, in the first of four wrestling matches Saturday night at the Fairground here.

In the second, also a one-fall or referee's decision match with a 20-minute time limit, "Farm er" Brenner and Wild Bill" Scholl will bring into the ring Elaine Ellis and Patti Neff for 45 minutes of undainty pulling, tugging and slamming and general punishment of the bodies beautiful.

The main event will be a men's tag team fracas, with a one hour limit, in which the Terrible Turk, the Chillicothe, the Farmer and Wild Bill will go at it hammer and tongs — with a few holds barred, but most of them taken anyway when the referee's back is turned.

The loser of the Pasha-Graham match will get to take his choice of the other three for a partner for the tag team battle. The other two will be their opponents.

Referee for the bouts will be Frank Baker, formerly seen in the television shows. Bob Otto, Columbus promoter, arranged the four-match card with rasslers from Al Haft's stable.

PASHA hardly needs an introduction; he's been wrestling a long time; he's been seen many times on television when TV wrestling was popular.

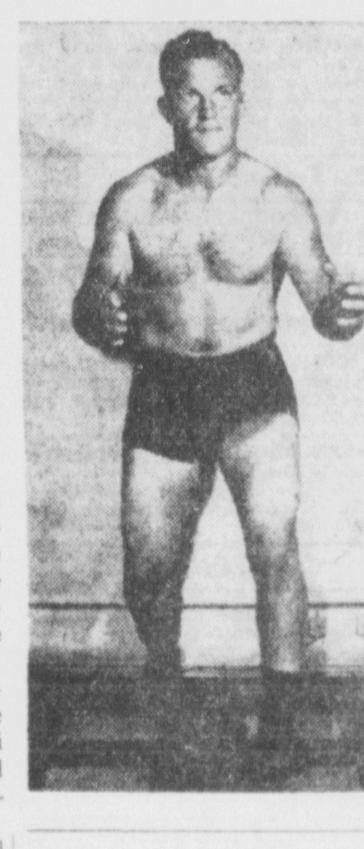

He was born in Turkey and started wrestling when a boy. He came to this country in the 1930s and made a name for himself with his "Turkish cobra" hold. He weighs 206 pounds.

Graham, his opponent in the first match Saturday night, was born in Chillicothe, but now lives in Lyndon, about 15 miles south of Washington C. H. His favorite move in wrestling is the "drop kick," at which he has become quite proficient. He has been working with the Chillicothe Telephone Co., while preparing for a career in wrestling.

He was a top flight amateur for six years before turning pro. During three years in the Air Force, he played football with the 11th Airborne Division. He played basketball while in high school. He is 6 feet tall and weighs 215 pounds.

Brenner, known as both "Farmer" and "Samson," is a Kentuckian. He has been described as the "rough and tumble" type of wrestler, the man with the iron body. He holds a number of weight-lifting records and once hoisted a 670-pound barbell with one hand before a group of physicians. He is 6 feet 2 inches tall and weighs 235 pounds and frequently poses as an artist's model.

Brenner's opponent for the second match, "Wild Bill" Scholl, is the biggest of the four heavies booked for the card here. Although he has the face and expression of a mere boy, he is a tornado in the ring when the going gets rough.

Nine million tons of fill were dumped to form the 4,200-foot-long causeway across which automobiles and trains pass from Nova Scotia to Cape Breton Island.

Ohio Sales Tax Take Continues On Decline

Belt Tightening Studied Anew by State's Officials

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Sales tax receipts continue to lag below last year, causing state officials to eye further belt tightening.

The crash occurred about 10 miles west of the nearby community of Mayflower, near the Arkansas River.

They concede that lower revenues from the state's biggest single tax source will mean operating cuts in some departments to prevent overspending.

Ohio started its new bookkeeping year this month with sales taxes nearly a million dollars below the same week last year.

Revenue failed to bounce back the following week as officials hoped. Preliminary figures showed that tax collections fell about $400,000 short of the corresponding 1957 week. And officials expect returns for last week to drop even further behind.

Finance Director John A. Skippton says he will do whatever is necessary to keep state spending within income. That means operating cuts unless tax returns perk up.

Blame the weather? Insiders assert continued rain accounts for complaints this year from highway builders about political campaign contributions.

They say road contractors and others doing business with the state have been kicking in to help candidates as long as they can remember.

Some contractors contributed to candidates of both parties during the same campaign, possibly for election insurance, they recall.

But recent rains have raised hob with millions of dollars worth of road building projects.

When contractors are hurting, they grumble about contributions that associates assert wouldn't be mentioned otherwise. They say that explains why some recent complaints about a practice of years' standing got into print.

Paper curtain? "You and the State Department of Education", is the title of a 37-page booklet issued over the name of E. E. Holt, superintendent of public instruction.

Sen. McClellan's Son Is Killed

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A twin-engine plane crashed and burned near here yesterday killing four persons, including the son of Sen. John McClellan (D-Ark.).

State police identified the dead as James H. McClellan, 25, of Little Rock, who practiced law here; Willis Denman Hill, 57, of Fort Worth, Tex.; Harold K. Gilbert of Stuttgart, Ark., and J. R. Williams, 32, of Little Rock.

The crash occurred about 10 miles west of the nearby community of Mayflower, near the Arkansas River.

Everyone is interested in public business, especially education, the pamphlet says.

"Newsmen are always looking for stories in the Department of Education. This we appreciate because public understanding of the issues, problems, innovations and new developments in education is a healthy situation which we strive to promote."

"There are," the text continues, "some newsworthy items which are confidential either by law or because they require further investigation and study before release for publication. Therefore, news stories are properly released by the superintendent of instruction or other designated employee."

"Unless you have been designated, don't take it upon yourself to release news stories—you may be doing more harm than good. . . ."
